This Paper Development Workshop (PDW), organized jointly by EGOS, Organization Studies, and OMT, seeks to provide developmental opportunities for late stage PhD students and early career scholars who are based in Central Eastern and South Eastern Europe (CESEE) and who see their scholarly work contributing to the field of organizational and management studies. The PDW aims to help participants develop their research and academic writing skills. It also seeks to increase participants' awareness of the requirements, expectations, and procedures involved in the review processes at top peer-reviewed academic journals through presentations and first-hand discussion with established scholars and journal editors.

In particular, we aim to support participants to develop their papers into conference papers to be successfully submitted to events such as the upcoming 35th EGOS Colloquium in Edinburgh, July 4–6, 2019, and/or to the OMT Division at the Annual Meeting of the Academy of Management (AoM) in Boston, August 9–13, 2019.

ORGANIZATION STUDIES

The workshop is free of charge; meals will be provided. The local organizers will make hotel reservations for all selected participants, covering different price categories to choose from. A limited number of travel grants will be offered (depending on needs and availability of funding from participants' home institutions) to cover at least part of the cost for travel and accommodation.

Please indicate in your application if you would like to be considered for financial support and confirm, in this case, that you have no or only limited funding from your home institution.

To apply for this PDW, please submit a brief motivation letter explaining why you think you are a good candidate for this workshop, how you will benefit, and how the workshop fits your research interests and current stage of career.

In your submission, please also include an extended abstract (ca. 2,000 words) of a current manuscript that you wish to further develop during the workshop. The abstract should include an explanation as to the purpose of the paper, the theoretical orientation and, for empirical papers, the methodological approach.

Applications should be sent by July 15, 2018 to Marija Roglić (roglic@miroinstitute.org), using the subject line 'CESEE 2018'.

Submitters will be informed whether they have been accepted for participation in this workshop by July 31, 2018.
